BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

GEOFF PETRIE
President, Basketball Operations

Geoff Petrie is the key figure behind the recent success of the Sacramento Kings. A two-time NBA Executive of the Year award winner, he is forever trying to find ways to strengthen the Kings, evidenced by his moves over the last 11 years. Petrie's eye for talent is indisputable. He's had a knack for consummating blockbuster trades, whether offseason or midseason, as was the case during last year's campaign when he acquired the services of Ron Artest in a midseason trade that sent Peja Stojakovic to the Indiana Pacers.

Pulling the trigger on the Artest trade was a bold move on Petrie's behalf, and, without a doubt, proved to be the biggest and most significant of the 2005-06 season. Its impact has been undeniable. Prior to the trade, the Kings' record was 18-24. Following the trade, Sacramento finished with a 26-12 record (third-best in the Western Conference) and a bid to the playoffs for the eighth-straight time.

This past offseason, placing an emphasis on the backcourt, Petrie signed versatile swingman John Salmons through free agency and selected guard Quincy Douby out of Rutgers as the Kings' top pick of the 2006 NBA Draft (23rd overall). He then focused his attention on the frontcourt and signed free agent center Loren Woods and forward Maurice Taylor.

Petrie was also active prior to the 2005-06 season when he signed free agent forward Shareef Abdur-Rahim and drafted Francisco Garcia in the first round (23rd overall) of the 2005 NBA Draft.

During the 2004-05 campaign, Petrie consummated arguably the biggest trade of that season when he dealt five-time NBA All-Star forward Chris Webber, along with Matt Barnes and Michael Bradley to Philadelphia in exchange for Kenny Thomas, Corliss Williamson, and Brian Skinner. Prior to that trade, the Kings acquired Cuttino Mobley and Bradley from Orlando for Doug Christie, marking the first time since February 1988 that the Kings made a midseason deal.

In June of 1994, Petrie inherited a Kings team that had not advanced to the postseason in eight years. In just his second season at the basketball operations helm, Petrie's 1995-96 squad qualified for the NBA Playoffs.

Currently entering his 12th year overseeing the Kings' basketball operations department, Petrie has completely re-tooled a Sacramento roster that has qualified for the NBA Playoffs in each of the past eight campaigns and nine of the past 11 years overall. Only Indiana and San Antonio have joined the Kings in the postseason in each of the last eight seasons. The Kings won Pacific Division titles in 2001-02 and 2002-03 and advanced to the 2002 Western Conference Finals. Between 2000-01 and 2004-05, the Kings joined San Antonio and Dallas as the only teams in the league to register 50-plus wins in each of those campaigns.

Petrie's efforts in Sacramento were rewarded following the 1998-99 season when he was named The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year, becoming the first person in NBA history to win both the league's executive and rookie annual awards. Petrie shared the 1971 NBA Rookie of the Year award with Boston's Dave Cowens. Following the 2000-01 season, Petrie was named The Sporting News Executive of the Year for a second time.

Not only have the Kings been one of the NBA's top competitive teams, but also one of the most entertaining, having led the league in scoring three of the past seven seasons. The Kings' wide-open, "share the ball" style of play has prompted network executives to schedule Sacramento for over 250 nationally televised games since 1999; this after the team had appeared on national TV a total of 13 times in the previous 13 seasons.

Petrie oversees all aspects of the Kings' basketball operations department, including the coaching and scouting staffs, team negotiations, and player acquisitions. He also serves as the main basketball liaison between the Kings, the NBA, and the league's 29 other teams.

Petrie's re-working of the Kings' roster has come via all avenues of player acquisition. His first-round draft choices have included current Kings Douby (2006, #19), Garcia (2005, #23), Kevin Martin (2004, #26) and Williamson (1995, #13), as well as former Kings players Peja Stojakovic (1996, #14), Gerald Wallace (2001, #25), Brian Grant (1994, #8), Tariq Abdul-Wahad (1997, #11), Jason Williams (1998, #7), and Hedo Turkoglu (2000, #16). Meanwhile, his second-round draft selections also have proven to be productive, including Lawrence Funderburke (1994, #51), Michael Smith (1994, #35), Anthony Johnson (1997 #40 overall), and Jerome James (1998, #36 overall) each of whom played at least six NBA seasons.

Petrie also has consummated 21 player trades since 1994, highlighted by the 1998 deal, which landed All-Star forward Webber. Of the Kings' current roster, three key players in Mike Bibby, Brad Miller and Artest arrived in Sacramento via trade. Not only has he exhibited keen skills in bringing in talented players via the draft and free agent signings, Petrie also has achieved success in keeping key players for the future, evidenced by the re-signing of Bibby during the summer of 2002, in addition to Webber and Christie in 2001 and Stojakovic and Scot Pollard in 2000.

DID YOU KNOW ... Geoff Petrie is the first person in NBA history to win both The Sporting News Executive of the Year (1998-99 and 2000-01) and NBA Rookie of the Year (1970-71) awards.

Petrie was the first-ever selection of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1970 NBA Draft (#8 overall), prior to the club's inaugural NBA campaign. In his first season as a professional, he posted Portland team highs in scoring (24.8 ppg), field goals made (784) and attempted (1,770), free throws made (463) and attempted (600), and assists (4.8 apg).

Petrie's scoring average remains the highest ever by a Portland rookie, while his single-season point total (2,031 pts.) made him one of just eight players in NBA history to surpass the 2,000-point plateau in his rookie campaign. Oscar Robertson and Michael Jordan were the only other guards to achieve the feat (also Wilt Chamberlain, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry, Elvin Hayes, and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar).

Petrie was a two-time All-Star (1971, 1974) and winner of the NBA's 1973 One-on-One tournament, defeating the likes of Gail Goodrich and Bob McAdoo. He still holds Portland single-game records for most field goals attempted (37) and most free throws made (18). He currently ranks sixth on the Trail Blazers' all-time career list in points (9,732), fifth in assists (2,057), and third and fifth, respectively, in field goals attempted (8,719) and made (3,970). A knee injury suffered in his sixth NBA season (1975-76) ended his professional playing career in which he registered averages of 21.8 points, 2.8 rebounds, and 4.6 assists per game. His Trail Blazers jersey (#45) was retired by Portland in 1981.

Following his retirement, Petrie worked in private business and beginning in 1984-85 in various roles within the Trail Blazers' front office, culminated by a four-year tenure as the team's senior vice president of operations. He was instrumental in the building of a Portland team that qualified for the 1990 and 1992 NBA Finals, which included the likes of Clyde Drexler, Buck Williams, Jerome Kersey, and former Kings' Assistant Coach Terry Porter.

A 1970 graduate of Princeton University, Petrie earned consecutive All-East and All-Ivy League honors following each of his final two collegiate seasons under legendary Tigers head coach and former Kings' Assistant Coach Pete Carril. The team captain as a senior, Petrie ranks seventh on the school's all-time scoring list (1,321 pts.) and fourth among career scoring average leaders (19.9 ppg).

Petrie and his wife, Anne-Marie, reside in Sacramento. He has three children, son, Mike and twin daughters, Anne-Marie and Susanne and one grandson, Preston. Petrie enjoys working out, playing golf and tennis, and playing guitar in his spare time.

ERIC MUSSELMAN

Head Coach

Eric Musselman enters his first year as the head coach of the Sacramento Kings. Prior to signing on as the 20th head coach in Kings' franchise history, Musselman spent the past two seasons as an assistant coach for the Memphis Grizzlies under Mike Fratello.

A young, energetic coach with a proven track record, Musselman has been successful on various levels throughout his coaching career. He was named head coach of the Golden State Warriors on July 6, 2002 at the ripe age of 37, making him the youngest head coach in the NBA at the time. In two seasons, he guided the Warriors to a 75-89 mark (.463), including a 38-44 record during his first season at the helm, which earned Golden State the NBA's most improved record in 2003 (17-win improvement from the year before). His efforts that season made him the runner-up for the NBA Coach of the Year award. Despite losing young stars Antawn Jamison and Gilbert Arenas the following year via trade and free agency, respectively, Musselman's Warriors posted a 37-45 mark.

Prior to joining the Warriors, Musselman worked as an assistant coach for the Atlanta Hawks (2000-02) under Lon Kruger and as an assistant coach for the Orlando Magic (1998-00) under Chuck Daly and Doc Rivers. His first NBA coaching experience came as an assistant coach for the Minnesota Timberwolves (1990-91) on the staff of his late father, Bill Musselman.

Before his assignment with the Magic, Musselman served a seven-year stint as the head coach of the Florida Beach Dogs of the Continental Basketball Association (CBA), where he posted a 270-122 record (.689), earning the second-highest winning percentage in league history behind George Karl. From 1990 through 1997, Musselman had 24 players called-up to the NBA, the highest number in the league during that span. He holds the distinction of being the only person in CBA history to coach in five league All-Star Games (1990, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1997) and was the first coach in professional basketball history to win 100 games by the age of 28. When he was 23, Musselman became the youngest coach in CBA history. As the Rapid City Thrillers' (later became Florida Beach Dogs) general manager in 1988-89, he hired current Pistons head coach Flip Saunders as the team's head coach.

Musselman also was the head coach of the Florida Sharks of the United States Basketball League. In the summers of 1995 and 1996, he coached the Sharks to a combined 53-3 record (.946, including playoffs) and back-to-back USBL Championships. He holds the highest winning percentage in league history .946, 53-3). His teams once won 15 consecutive games, a USBL record, and never suffered a home loss.

A graduate of the University of San Diego, Musselman played in two NCAA Tournaments as a member of the Toreros basketball team, and is a three-time member of the West Coast Athletic Conference All-Academic squad. He was selected by the CBA's Albany Patroons in the fifth round (58th overall) of the 1987 Draft following his collegiate career.

Musselman, an avid workout enthusiast, enjoys spending time with his two sons, Michael (10) and Matthew (6). He resides in the Natomas area of Sacramento.

FRANCHISE HISTORY

HISTORY OF OWNERSHIP

The Sacramento Kings begin their eighth season under the ownership efforts of the Maloof family, which took over control of the Kings and ARCO Arena on July 1, 1999. The Maloofs succeeded Jim Thomas, who had owned the franchise since April 6, 1992.

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs (WNBA), and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. On January 15, 1999, the Maloofs subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board.

The Kings franchise made its NBA debut in 1948 as the Rochester Royals under the ownership of Les Harrison. Harrison also served as the club's head coach for the first seven seasons, and in 1951 he guided the Royals to the first and only NBA World Championship title in franchise history. The team was moved to Cincinnati in 1957 where one year later it became a public corporation. In 1966, brothers Max and Jeremy Jacobs purchased the club and maintained ownership through the team's move to Kansas City in 1972-73.

LES HARRISON

A group of 10 Kansas City-based businessmen purchased the club in 1973 for an excess of $5 million. The same group held proprietorship through May of 1982 when ownership was restructured so that only three partners remained, Leon Karosen, H. Paul Rosenberg, and Robert J. Margolin. Three months later, three New York-based businessmen joined the Kansas City ownership group.

On June 8, 1983, the Kings were sold to a local business group that is responsible for bringing NBA basketball to the Capitol City, as Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Bob A. Cook, Frank McCormick, and Stephen H. Cippa purchased the Kansas City Kings for approximately $10.5 million. In January of 1985, the group petitioned the NBA Board of Governors for permission to move the franchise to Sacramento. Nine months later, the Kings' Sacramento-era began as the club played its first-ever contest before a sold out crowd at the temporary ARCO Arena site.

Twenty-two NBA seasons later, the club continues to play before large crowds in an ARCO Arena building constructed by the Lukenbill-Benvenuti ownership group.

NICKNAME & LOGO TRANSITION

The Rochester National Basketball League franchise was originally nicknamed the Royals in 1946 after 15-year-old Richard Paeth's entry beat out 500 other suggestions in a name the team contest. For his winning entry, Paeth, a native of Rochester, received a $100 Victory Bond from team president/manager Les Harrison. When the franchise moved to Cincinnati before the 1957-58 campaign, the ownership decided to maintain the Royals moniker. However, when the franchise moved to Kansas City prior to the 1972-73 season, it needed a new nickname because the name Royals was already being used by the city's Major League Baseball team. Wanting to keep the "Royal" theme, the club decided on the nickname of Kings.

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled the franchise's current primary logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati. Following is a chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' primary logo over the franchise's 58-year history:

Team Notes

- On November 8, 1988, the long awaited debut of ARCO Arena II became a reality when the Kings hosted the Seattle SuperSonics, losing 97-75 before a sold-out crowd of 16,517. NBA Commissioner David Stern participated in the dedication cermony.
- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Kings-Trail Blazers contest on December 27, 1988, Head Coach Jerry Reynolds collapsed on the sidelines. He lay unconscious for several minutes before doctors revived him and immediately transported him to Sutter Memorial Hospital for further observation. Doctors dismissed cardiac problems, diagnosing the cause of the fainting and dizziness due to a sudden postural change. Reynolds missed the following night's game in Utah, but returned to practice two days later.
- On February 20, 1989, the Kings acquired Indiana forward Wayman Tisdale and the Pacers' 1990 second-round draft choice in exchange for forward LaSalle Thompson and guard Randy Wittman.
- On May 21, 1989, Sacramento won the NBA Lottery's grand prize by receiving the first overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. Approximately one month later (June 27), the Kings selected 6-10 Louisville center Pervis Ellison with the No. 1 choice.

Team Notes

- On August 14, 1989, guard Ricky Berry was found dead in his home from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, just months after the conclusion of a rookie campaign in which he averaged 11.0 ppg, 3.1 rpg, and 1.3 apg.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the club's management and basketball staff on December 19, 1990. Executive Vice President of Business Operations Rick Benner was named president of the Kings and ARCO Arena. Head Coach Jerry Reynolds assumed the position of director of player personnel and would eventually relinquish his coaching position. Bill Russell was released from his position as vice president of basketball operations.
- On January 4, 1990, NBA veteran Dick Motta, the third-winningest head coach in NBA history, replaced Reynolds as the Kings head coach. Reynolds compiled a 56-114 (.330) record in three stints as Kings head coach.
- Kings guard Kenny Smith finished second to Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins in the Gatorade Slam Dunk contest during NBA All-Star Weekend in Miami. Smith's appearance marked only the second time since the club moved to Sacramento in 1985 a player represented the Kings in the All-Star festivities. (Terry Tyler in '86 slam dunk contest was the first).
- The Kings made NBA history at the 1990 NBA Draft (June 27, 1990), becoming the first team to select four first-round draft choices—LaSalle forward Lionel Simmons (#7 overall), Texas guard Travis Mays (#14 overall), Temple center Duane Causwell (#18 overall), and St. Louis forward Anthony Bonner (#23 overall).

Team Notes

- Kings posted a 28-54 record in 1993-94, a three-game improvement over the 1992-93 campaign (25-57).
- Sacramento finished ahead of the Los Angeles Clippers (27-55) in the Pacific Division standings, marking the first time since 1988-89 that the Kings did not finish at the bottom of their division.
- Guard Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since Otis Birdsong in 1980-81 to earn All-NBA honors when he was voted to the second team. Richmond ranked seventh in the NBA in scoring (23.4 ppg) in the regular season, while also averaging 3.7 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.32 spg.
- Richmond also became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start an NBA All-Star Game, tallying 10 points, two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the West squad in the 44th Annual affair in Minneapolis, MN.
- Kings were stricken by the injury bug throughout the season, losing 226 player games to injury or illness, the third highest total in the NBA in 1993-94 and the second most in the Sacramento-era. The rash of injuries forced Head Coach Garry St. Jean to utilize 20 different starting combinations over the course of the season.

Team Notes

- Kings registered a 39-43 regular-season record, marking the franchise's most victories in a season since 1982-83 (45-37). Sacramento finished fifth in the Pacific Division, and missed advancing to the NBA Playoffs by just one game after falling 102-89 at Denver (4/23/95) on the final day of the regular season in a winner-take-all battle for the eighth and final Western Conference Playoff berth.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 22.8 ppg, 4.4 rpg, 3.8 apg, and 1.11 spg. Richmond's 22.8 ppg led all guards in scoring and ranked eighth in the NBA.

- Richmond was named MVP of the 45th Annual All-Star Game in Phoenix, scoring a game-high 23 points (10-13 FG, 3-3 3pt, 0-0 FT) with four rebounds and two assists in only 22 minutes off the bench to lead the Western Conference to a 139-112 victory over the East. The 10-for-13 (.769) shooting performance is the third best in All-Star history.

- Forward Brian Grant was named to the NBA's First-Team All-Rookie squad, averaging 13.2 ppg (.511 FG%), 7.5 rpg, and 1.45 bpg. Grant earned Schick Rookie of the Month honors for January after averaging 15.8 ppg (.511 FG%), 9.7 rpg, and 2.13 bpg in helping lead the Kings to a 9-6 mark.

LES HARRISON — BASKETBALL PIONEER

The Sacramento Kings organization would like to pay tribute to the late Les Harrison who passed away in December of 1997 at the age of 93. As owner, general manager, and coach, Harrison was the driving force behind the Rochester Royals in the early days of the National Basketball League (NBL). In three seasons in the NBL, Harrison led the Royals to a 99-43 record, three NBL finals, and league titles in 1946 and 1947. With the signing of Dolly King in 1946, Harrison played a role in breaking the minority barrier in professional basketball. Following the 1948-49 season, in which the Royals played in the Basketball Association of America (BAA), Harrison led the effort to merge the NBL and BAA into the current National Basketball Association (NBA). Under Harrison's direction, the Royals won the franchise's lone NBA title in 1951, defeating the New York Knickerbockers 4-3 in the Finals. Harrison posted a .620 winning percentage (295-181) in seven NBA seasons, which ranks ninth all-time in the league entering this season. In a crowning achievement to his career, Harrison was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

KINGS RETIRED JERSEYS

NATE ARCHIBALD

Nate "Tiny" Archibald played six of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. Selected by the Cincinnati Royals in the second round of the 1970 NBA Draft, Archibald starred in six NBA All-Star Games. The 6-1, 180 guard posted his best season in 1972-73, averaging a career-best 34.0 ppg and 11.4 apg, becoming the only player in NBA history to lead the league in both scoring and assists. Archibald was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1990.

MITCH RICHMOND

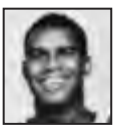
Mitch Richmond became the first player in Sacramento-era history to have his jersey retired (December 5, 2003). Richmond ranks among the top five in franchise history in points, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, free throw percentage, steals, three-pointers made and attempted, and three-point field goal percentage. He became the first Sacramento King to be named to the All-Star Game, and earned the All-Star MVP award in 1995 after tallying 23 points in 22 minutes off the bench. Also while with Sacramento, Richmond represented the United States in the 1996 Olympics, winning a gold medal.

6TH MAN (THE FANS)

The No. 6 jersey was retired to acknowledge the support of the Kings fans. A sellout streak of 497 games still stands as the fourth-longest sellout streak in NBA history. The milestone streak began on opening night in 1985, the first season the Kings played in Sacramento, and ended after the second game of the 1997-98 season. Entering the 2006-07 campaign, the Kings have sold out 313 games, the longest active streak in the league.

BOBBY DAVIES

Bobby Davies, known as the Harrisburg Houdini, played all 10 of his NBA seasons with the Rochester Royals (1945-46 - 1954-55). His two free throws in the final 40 seconds of regulation broke a 75-75 tie in the seventh and deciding game of the 1951 NBA Finals against New York, helping to give the franchise its first and only NBA Championship. The four-time All-Star averaged 16.2 ppg, 2.9 rpg, and 6.0 apg in his best statisical season in 1951-52. A 6-1, 175 guard, Davies was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1969.

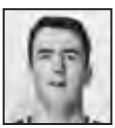


MAURICE STOKES

The 6-7, 240 forward played all three of his seasons for the franchise, playing his first two seasons with Rochester (1955-56 - 1956-57) and his last with Cincinnati (1957-58). In his first season, Stokes was named NBA Rookie of the Year and was named to the All-NBA Second Team after posting team-highs of 16.8 ppg (11th in NBA), 16.3 rpg (2nd in NBA), and 4.9 apg (9th in NBA). An All-Star in all three seasons, Stokes averaged 16.4 ppg, 17.3 rpg, and 5.3 apg in 202 career games. His brillant career was cut short when he was diagnosed with post-traumatic encephalopathy (brain injury damaging motor-control center) after a fall suffered three days earlier in a game against the Minneapolis Lakers (3/12/58).

OSCAR ROBERTSON

Known as the Big O, Oscar Robertson displayed an uncanny all-around game, finishing his 12-year NBA career with 25.7 ppg, 7.5 rpg, and 9.5 apg in 1,040 career games. He played 10 of his 14 NBA seasons with the Cincinnati Royals. His best season came in 1961-62 when the 6-5, 210 guard averaged a triple double - 30.8 ppg, 12.5 rpg, 11.4 apg. He averaged 30 or more points in six of his first seven seasons in the league and 10 or more assists in five of his first seven seasons. Robertson, who led the league in assists in six seasons, ranks among the NBA's all-time leaders in scoring (8th), assists (4th), and points (8th). The 12-time All Star was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.



JACK TWYMAN

A 6-6 guard from Cincinnati, Jack Twyman played all 11 of his NBA seasons with the Kings franchise, two coming in Rochester (1955-56 and 1956-57) and the other nine seasons (1957-58 - 1965-66) with his hometown team. Twyman averaged 14 or more points in his first 10 seasons and averaged 31.2 ppg, 8.9 rpg, and 3.5 apg during the 1959-60 regular season. In 1958-59, Twyman ranked second in the league in scoring, posting a 25.8 scoring average. Twyman twice scored 50 or more points in his career, incldng a 59-point performance versus Minneapolis (1/15/60), which still remains the Kings' franchise single-game scoring record. Among franchise career leaders, Twyman ranks second in points, field goals made and attempted, and free throws made and attempted. The Hall of Fame inducted the six-time All-Star guard in 1982.

SAM LACEY

Sam Lacey, a 6-10, 235 forward out of New Mexico State, played almost all of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. The first selection of the Royals in the 1970 NBA Draft, Lacey averaged a double-double in points and rebounds in his first six seasons in the league. Lacey stands as the franchise leader in games played (888) and rebounds (9,353). He also ranks in the top five in minutes played, points, field goals made, and field goals attempted.

NICKNAME & LOGO TRANSITION

The Rochester National Basketball League franchise was originally nicknamed the Royals in 1946 after 15-year-old Richard Paeth's entry beat out 500 other suggestions in a name the team contest. For his winning entry, Paeth, a native of Rochester, received a $100 Victory Bond from team president/manager Les Harrison. When the franchise moved to Cincinnati before the 1957-58 campaign, the ownership decided to maintain the Royals moniker. However, when the franchise moved to Kansas City prior to the 1972-73 season, it needed a new nickname because the name Royals was already being used by the city's Major League Baseball team. Wanting to keep the "Royal" theme, the club decided on the nickname of Kings.

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled the franchise's current primary logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati. Following is a chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' primary logo over the franchise's 53-year history:

A GAME 7 THRILLER FOR THE NBA TITLE

The Sacramento Kings' lone franchise NBA World Championship came in 1951 when the then-Rochester Royals defeated the New York Knickerbockers in seven games. Following is the game story and box score of the Royals' thrilling 79-75 Game 7 victory over the Knickerbockers as it appeared in the New York Times.

By Leonard Koppett

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 21 — Proving once again that free throws are more important than field goals, the Rochester Royals won the National Basketball Association championship before 4,200 spectators at the arena tonight by beating the New York Knickerbockers, 79 to 75, in the seventh game of the final play-off series. The Royals had won the first three games, the Knicks the next three.

Just how completely dependent Rochester's victory was on its foul line steadiness is clear in the chronology and statistics of the game. Bob Davies broke a 75-all tie with forty-four seconds to play when he sank two free throws after being fouled by Dick McGuire while driving to the basket; and in all, the Royals made twenty-nine out of thirty-seven free-throw attempts while New York sank only seventeen out of twenty-five. The Knicks had four more baskets, twenty-nine to twenty-five.

The fouls brought about New York's defeat in another way, too. Both its centers, Nat Clifton and Connie Simmons, fouled out in the last quarter, when the Knicks took the lead for the first time after trailing by as much as fourteen points in the first half. Meanwhile Arnie Risen, Rochester's center who took top-scoring honors with 24 points and scored the deciding basket before Davies made his free throws, committed his fourth foul twenty-two minutes before the game ended and played unpenalized the rest of the way.

Clifton, Simmons Foul Out

With Clifton and Simmons out, the Knicks were unable to control the jump balls that followed each foul in the last three minutes, so that their doom was really sealed when Risen made his last basket. New York was ahead, 74 to 72, when Simmons fouled out with two minutes left. Risen made the toss, then jumped against Ernie Vandeweghe and, when Rochester got possession, Arnie's hook shot put the Royals ahead, 75 to 74. Boryla tied it up a moment later but Rochester then froze the ball until Davies drove in.

Before the final minutes, the Knickerbockers' made another of their typical comebacks that marked their play all season long. The most "overtime" club in the league, they qualified for the final by coming from behind in their final game against Syracuse, and, after losing the first three to Rochester, trailed in each of the three games they won.

Tonight, trying to perform the ultimate in comebacks, they started by falling behind, 13 to 3. By the end of the first quarter they were up to 22 to 16, but a few minutes later Rochester led, 32 to 18. The Knicks battled back to within four points but trailed, 40 to 36, at halftime.

Knicks Finally Take Lead

In the third quarter they climbed to within three, then two, and were behind, 62 to 60, entering the last quarter. They finally achieved a 69-all tie midway through the period and took the lead for the first time, 71 to 70, with four minutes to go. Both times Gallatin converted under-the-basket feeds from McGuire.

McGuire added a foul half a minute later and the teams alternated free throws until Simmons fouled out against Risen. Rochester's final basket, with two seconds left, was a lay-up by Coleman after a successful freeze had settled matters.

Lou Eisenstein and Stan Stutz, the officials, charged the Knicks with thirty-two personals and the Royals with twenty-two. Splitting each team's total evenly between the two halves. Very few fouls were called against Rochester, however, in the play under the boards, where the Royals emerged with a 48-to-41 edge in rebounds. Clifton's fifth personal was particularly unfortunate for the Knicks, since it came while Rochester was holding the ball at mid-court. He was called for bumping Risen while moving into position. A minute and a half later he fouled out.

Coaches Voice No Complaints

No complaints were voiced about the officials, however, either by Knick coach, Joe Lapchick, or Rochester coach, Les Harrison, who, after Rochester's loss in New York Wednesday, found Eisenstein unsatisfactory and asked that he be replaced for tonight's game.

By their victory, the Royals earned $7,500 to add to their previous winnings and wound up with $13,250 in play-off money to divide up. The Knicks finished with $2,500 less and the satisfaction-disappointment of one of basketball's greatest near-misses.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Sacramento Kings are dedicated to making a positive and meaningful difference in the lives of people in need and at risk in the Sacramento area. With literacy as a top priority, Joe and Gavin Maloof have forged a strong working partnership with local literacy centers and area school districts.

In the Maloof family's first two years of owning the Kings, the organization's community efforts were rated best in the league in NBA fan surveys. That service to the community expanded in 2001 as J.D. Power and Associates rated the Sacramento Kings number one in the NBA for overall fan experience, adding to the 3rd straight community service achievement. In addition, Joe and Gavin Maloof were the inaugural winners of the Sports Humanitarian World Hall Of Fame's Most Involved Executives for 2001.

GEORGE J. MALOOF SR. COMMUNITY CUP

Joe and Gavin Maloof have dedicated the first home game of the preseason every year as the "George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup." Each season, the Maloof family will donate at least $100,000 of proceeds from the Community Cup game to a local charitable community improvement project. This year's game is scheduled for October 14, 2001 against the Dallas Mavericks.

"Our father was a very community-oriented man, both in his professional and personal life. By dedicating our first home game each year to a long-term charitable commitment to children and families in need, we feel we are recognizing and honoring our father's beliefs in the importance of giving back to the community," said Joe Maloof. Gavin Maloof added, "Our entire family sees community service as a major priority for the Kings organization. We are dedicated to assisting those in need in our community. This annual event is a great way to tip-off each new Kings season."

Last year's George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup benefited an after-school arts program partnership with the Sacramento City Unified School District. The Kings' $100,000 donation is renovating a historic school administration building (1619 N Street) in downtown Sacramento. The site will be home to Hemispheres, a new after-school visual and performing arts center. In 1999, proceeds went to refurbish the baseball fields in South Sacramento, which host the Airport Little League organization.

The 2001 recipient of the George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup is the Sacramento Asian Sports Foundation. The $100,000 donation will support construction of the new Community Cultural and Youth Sports Center in Sacramento. The Kings' presenting partners of the 2001 Community Cup are Raley's and Bel Air, Coors Brewing Company, and UPN 31 KMAX.

MALOOF TEAM MEMBER PROJECTS

Maloof Sports and Entertainment full-time and event team members participate in community projects, donating their hard work, expertise, and energy. Past projects include a site preparation for the 17th Avenue Park, currently know as the Bill Bean Park, building a new gateway to the Oak Park neighborhood at 14th Avenue and Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd., school improvements at Kit Carson Middle School, and renovation of Gardenland Park. Kings volunteers will also serve Thanksgiving dinner to hundreds with the TLC Soup Kitchen for the eighth consecutive year, along with holding a party for children who need a little extra cheer during the holiday season.

TEACHER APPRECIATION NIGHT

Every year the Sacramento Kings recognize the top teachers in Sacramento County. This year's outstanding group of teachers and educators will be recognized on February 19, 2002 when the Kings play the Atlanta Hawks. Each teacher will receive tickets, dinner, and an award during halftime on behalf of a grateful community.

KINGS READING TEAM CHALLENGE

The Kings join Pepsi, Tower, and Allstate Insurance to encourage young people to make reading a life-long habit. Kids are encouraged to pick up their Kings Reading Team Challenge scorecard at various locations in the Sacramento area, including participating libraries, schools, ARCO Arena, Tower, and Allstate Insurance offices. The goal is for students to read as a team for a total of 100,000 minutes. Each successful youth who returns a completed scorecard by reading 20 minutes a day for twenty days will receive a special prize, courtesy of the Kings, Pepsi, Tower, and Allstate Insurance. Kings players and staff will make personal appearances at various locations throughout this season to promote the importance of making reading a life-long habit.

The Kings and Pepsi will also offer a classroom challenge for students and teachers. Last season, the Kings Playoff Reading Challenge was an enormous success with over 2,000 students reading over 2.4 million pages. This year's winning class will be visited by a Sacramento Kings player and featured during a Kings halftime broadcast.

LITERACY CENTERS

In keeping with the spirit of Team Up and emphasizing our efforts towards literacy, the Kings will work "hands on" in the community by cleaning up, building, or rebuilding local literacy centers. Locations may include, but are not limited to, school and public libraries, computer rooms, and nonprofit community centers. Volunteers from both Maloof Sports and Entertainment and supporting corporate partner Operating Engineers Local Union 3, will help adopt rooms or buildings in need of upgrades into quiet areas for students to read and study. In addition to the Reading & Learning Center improvements, the Kings will also hold a book donation drive during the month of December, offering a way for fans to join the Kings during our literacy efforts.

TEAM CAPTAIN OF THE WEEK

Special students are recognized during Kings games as a "Team Captain of the Week." Once a week, students will be selected to present the game ball to the referees and represent the Kings as an honorary team captain. The student will also receive tickets to the game to enjoy all the action on the court. The Team Captain of the Week is made possible by Wells Fargo Banks.

TICKET TO THE FUTURE

Quest, Southwest Airlines, and the Kings are offering students a chance to write about technology and travel through the Ticket to the Future essay contest. Students select from a variety of questions, write an essay, and send it in for a chance to win. The top twenty essay winners will receive a personal computer, monitor, and printer. The top three students will also receive a visit from a Sacramento Kings player to their school.

In addition to the essay contest, Quest and Southwest Airlines will fly a group of underprivileged students to a museum or education center for a unique experience. Last year, students from Elder Creek Elementary School (SCUSD) flew to Los Angeles on Southwest Airlines and spent a day at the California Science Center.

NECA/IBEW is joining the Kings in recognizing these teachers by providing each of them with a $1,000 grant towards their school and profiling each teacher on a Kings radio broadcast. Two teachers will also be chosen for a very special visit from a Kings player to their classroom.

RALEY'S AND BEL AIR REMARKABLE KIDS
Sacramento area school children get the chance to attend a Kings game at ARCO Arena in the "Raley's and Bel Air Remarkable Kids" section. Students who demonstrate outstanding achievement in the classroom are rewarded with this Kings experience of a lifetime.

INVESTING IN OUR FUTURE THROUGH EDUCATION
The Kings Community Foundation has pledged 40 junior college scholarships to graduating seniors from Sacramento's high schools. The first class eligible for scholarships graduated at the end of last season (June, 2001). TicketMaster is a presenting partner in this community re-investment program.

KINGS BASKETBALL SUMMER CAMPS
Beginning this summer, the Kings will conduct a basketball camp to provide the highest level of basketball instruction to area youths. The new state-of-the-art practice facility, located adjacent to ARCO Arena, provides the Kings a venue to host basketball drills, guest speakers, games, quality instruction, and an opportunity to interact with NBA personalities. Proceeds from the camp will benefit the Sacramento Kings Community Foundation. Sierra Springs Water and Krispy Kreme support these camps to make them possible.

GATORADE MIDDLE SCHOOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE
The Kings and Gatorade are partners to support after-school basketball in the Sacramento area. Through a multi-year agreement, the partnership has refurbished local school gymnasiums with backboards, rims, and floor maintenance equipment. As the NBA and WNBA launches a national program supporting youth basketball, named Junior NBA/Junior WNBA, the Kings and Gatorade will look to support local leagues with league enhancements and incentives.

MEMORIBALIA DONATIONS FOR LOCAL FUNDRIAISERS
Every year, Kings players and coaches autograph thousands of items for local raffles and auctions that help raise millions of dollars for the Sacramento-area community. Schools or non-profit organizations benefit from this great opportunity to offer a priceless autographed item or Kings merchandise for their fundraising efforts. To receive a donation for your organization's next event, please send a request on letterhead at least 45 days in advance to: Kings Community Service, One Sports Parkway, Sacramento, CA, 95834. Include the date of the event, contact name, phone number and address.

GOLD RUSH CLASSIC
In order to preserve one of the most prominent national sporting events in Sacramento, Maloof Sports and Entertainment recently agreed to take over the management and development of the Gold Rush Classic, a fixture on the Senior PGA Tour since its inception in 1987. In addition to saving another major league franchise in Sacramento, Joe and Gavin Maloof guaranteed the continuation of the area's largest fundraiser. The Gold Rush Classic has raised over $4.1 million for non-profit charities over the past 13 years. Since the Gold Rush Classic started in 1987, the tournament has generated more dollars and in-kind services for charitable organizations than almost any other event in the greater Sacramento area.

This year's event was held from September 24-30 at the Serrano Country Club in El Dorado Hills, California, and offered a Pro-Am featuring NBA Legends and celebrities. Some of the SPGA's top golfers, including 2000 winner Jim Thorpe, Allen Doyle, Bruce Fleisher, and the 2001 winner Tom Kite, were joined by notables Charles Barkley, George Gervin, Bill Murray, and the Kings own Chris Webber. NBC Inside Stuff Executive Producer Ahmad Rashad and Gavin Maloof chaired the tournament that benefited Sacramento Mayor Heather Fargo's "Mayor's Summer Reading Program," and the Technology and Learning Center of the El Dorado County Boys and Girls Club.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The NBA is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on reading and youth programs. Each year the league, its players and its teams donate millions of dollars and hundreds of hours to charities and community outreach programs. Through its extensive outreach programs, team foundations, and public service announcements, the NBA is deeply involved in addressing a variety of important social issues in its communities.

Read to Achieve is a year-round program designed to help young people develop a life-long love for reading that will reach an estimated 50 million children a year. It is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. In addition to a $100 million a year promotional campaign, the effort includes the annual donation of more than 200,000 books through a variety of reading events and book fairs, as well as the development of essay contests and on-line programs.

With the support of long-time national partners such as RIF and Scholastic Inc., Read to Achieve will create Reading and Learning Centers throughout North America in an effort to provide access to reading materials and technology to young people everywhere. These centers are modeled after the work done at the Eastern Branch of the Boys & Girls Club in Washington, D.C., that was unveiled during All-Star 2001. In addition, a wide variety of reading timeouts, book distribution events, book fairs, reading programs, essay events and on-line programs are being developed for the upcoming season.

Integral components of the program are national and local All-Star Reading Teams comprised of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA family, who promote reading efforts through in-arena events, Public Service Announcements, and community appearances throughout the year.

In recognition of the community outreach of our players, the league has established the Hometown Hero of the Month Award, which honors players whose efforts in the community are truly outstanding. To honor the NBA Player that reflects the passion that the league and its players have for their communities, all 29 NBA teams nominate a player for the Hometown Hero of the Month Award which is presented 12 times a year.

Awarded annually at the conclusion of each league's regular season, the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards recognize players who embody the spirit of sportsmanship. The NBA makes a $25,000 donation on behalf of the NBA Sportsmanship Award honoree, and a $10,000 donation on behalf of each of the three divisional awardees, to the high school of their choice. In addition, the NBA will recognize National Sportsmanship Day with local events throughout North America.

The NBA also supports the efforts of Prevent Child Abuse America, the Martin Luther King Holiday, Black History Month, Gallaudet University, and the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund.

ARCO ARENA — HOME OF THE KINGS

A sold out crowd of 10,333 witnessed the Kings' debut in Sacramento at ARCO Arena I on October 25, 1985. After three seasons in the temporary facility, the Kings played their first basketball game at the permanent ARCO Arena facility on November 8, 1988 before a then-capacity crowd of 17,014. The fans have continued to flock to ARCO Arena, which now seats 17,317 for basketball. In fact, over a 13-season stretch from 1985-86 to 1997-98 the Kings hosted an NBA-leading 497 consecutive sellouts at ARCO Arena.

Conveniently located near the intersection of I-5 and I-80, ARCO Arena is only five minutes from downtown Sacramento and 90 miles from the San Francisco Bay area.

Designed with a unique configuration for unparalleled sight lines to watch basketball, the 442,000 square-foot, $40,000,000 facility was built without taxpayer dollars. There are approximately 3,900 trees and over 8,000 shrubs on the 105 acres surrounding ARCO Arena with parking for up to 12,000 vehicles in the fully-lighted parking lot. Among the indoor amenities are concession stands throughout, featuring 80 service lines, four lounges overlooking the arena interior, eight locker rooms, 297 public toilets, and 24-hour security.

ARCO Arena adds to the local economy by employing as many as 1,200 full- and part-time workers during the basketball season. Arena patrons have come to the events hungry, consuming 5,000 gallons of soda and 170,000 hot dogs in just one year!

One of the busiest buildings of its kind in the United States, ARCO Arena hosts nearly 200 events and two million spectators annually. The facility has been home to numerous premier concert events, including nine sellout shows by country music superstar, Garth Brooks, who has attracted over 144,000 fans to his ARCO Arena concerts. Other top acts that have played ARCO Arena have included Eric Clapton, Pearl Jam, Elton John, Reba McEntire, and the Rolling Stones. In addition, more than 170,000 people attended the five-day Billy Graham Crusade in October of 1995 in the Crusade's only United States stop.

Other highlighted events at ARCO Arena have included the Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus, NHL Hockey, Arena Football, and the 1994 and 1998 First and Second Round Western Regional NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournaments. ARCO Arena also will host the 2002 first and second rounds of the NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournaments. The versatile facility has hosted monster trucks, professional wrestling, and ice shows featuring the world's finest figure skaters.

ARCO Arena also is home to the Sacramento Monarchs of the Women's National Basketball Association and the Sacramento Knights of the World Indoor Soccer League. The Monarchs continued to expand their fan base, enjoying their fifth campaign this past summer. The Knights have become a favorite in the Capitol City, as the franchise has averaged over 6,000 fans per contest in each of the team's nine seasons. The Knights have made the playoffs in six of their eight seasons and captured the CISL title in 1999. In 1997, the Knights hosted the CISL All-Star Game at ARCO Arena, drawing a record crowd of 10,124 for the midseason showcase.

KINGS BROADCASTING

With seven Emmy Awards and 12 Emmy nominations in the last three years, the Sacramento Kings Broadcast Team has elevated its television production to one of the highest levels in all of professional sports. For the third straight season the Kings Broadcast Team will produce all local games on News10 or ComCast SportsNet while ABC, TNT, NBA TV, and ESPN will handle national coverage.

NEWS10: Kings' Over-the-Air Flagship

Sacramento's News leader (tag line) enters its fifth season with the Kings and will carry 18 regular season games, including the season opener on November 2 at Minnesota. Grant Napear and Jerry Reynolds call the action while Jim Kozimor does the sideline reporting.

COMCAST SPORTSNET: Kings' Cable Flagship

ComCast SportsNet enters its third season of a 10-year alliance with the Kings and will air 63 broadcasts including all eight preseason contests and the home opener on November 6 versus Minnesota. Napear and Reynolds are the broadcasters.

All ComCast SportsNet broadcasts feature the Warm-Up/Wrap-Up Show, House Party Live (HPL). The fan interactive HPL enters its third season, delivering an energetic blend of critical information and fresh entertainment. Kozimor and Monarchs guard Kara Lawson host the show. Former King Lasalle Thompson also provides commentary and insight to the show.

The network made its debut to approximately 700,000 Comcast customers in Sacramento, Chico, Stockton, Modesto, and Fresno with the first Kings preseason game on October 10, 2004, versus Golden State. Comcast SportsNet is the culmination of years of effort by the franchise to televise the most possible Kings games to the greatest number of fans. In addition to producing all of the team's radio and television network broadcasts, the Kings also manage all advertising and sponsorship sales for their broadcasts.

KHTK SPORTS 1140AM: Kings' Radio Flagship

The region's 50,000-watt flagship radio station is in its 13th season, broadcasting Kings games live to 10,000 listeners. The voice of the Kings for 21 seasons (1,665 games), Gary Gerould calls the play-by-play.

Now in its fifth season, the Kings' Pregame Train, packed full of interviews and features, rolls through your radio 60 minutes prior to tip. The Kings' Postgame Train, powered by live calls and locker room reaction, takes you home 90 minutes after the game. Your hosts of the show are Jason Ross and Monarch Assistant Coach Tom Abatemarco.
